Blairmore Wins From Okotoks

Likely to Play Final with Canmore Saturday Night

In the hardest fought game of the season, Blairmore tonight defeated Okotoks on the Calgary arena by a two-to-one score. Okotoks scored in the first period and no further scoring was done until the latter part of the final period, when with Turner out of commission and Barbour on the fence, the Tyrants bombarded the Okotoks defence and ran up two.

Canmore and Carstairs play their final on Calgary ice on tomorrow (Friday) afternoon, and as Canmore already has a lead of four goals, it is likely Blairmore will have to clash with Canmore Saturday, which will complete the provincial championship series.

Blairmore Plays Two Ties With Okotoks

As a result of sound organization and good sportsmanship Blairmore has overcome all the obstacles staged by the Lethbridge aggregation and are today the undisputed champions of the Crow's Nest Pass Hockey League. In one of the finest games ever staged at Calgary, they defeated Lethbridge to the tune of 5 to 4 on Friday night last and elected to challenge for the provincial championship. Quite a number of local fans accompanied the boys to the cow town and remained over for the game at Okotoks on Saturday. They report a splendid game at Calgary and that fans of that city were treated to just as good an exhibition of real hockey as has been staged this season by the famous Big Four. Blairmore went to Calgary with Harbour, Turner, Rhynas, Vajprava, Goddard and Graham as main team, and Scott as a reserve.

Blairmore and Okotoks met on Okotoks ice on Saturday night for the first of home and home in the semi-finals. The game as reported must have been a good one and was witnessed by a large number of fans, including a few from Lethbridge. Special mention is made in reports on the game of the splendid work put on by our Blairmore trio, Barbour, Rhynas and Turner, and also the other members of the local team, all of whom starred. The game resulted in a tie of one and one.

The return game was to have been played on Blairmore ice on Tuesday night of this week, but because of the soft condition of the ice, but an exhibition game was staged for the benefit of the two thousand spectators present. Despite the fact that nearly half the ice was honeycombed and full of holes, a good game was played and the teams appeared to have been very evenly matched. The score resulted in a tie of two and two.

The Lethbridge police forces were unavoidably absent, so our fans undertook to look after themselves. An invitation had been sent to the several forces of Lethbridge to be present with all their sidearms for the occasion, but the Okotoks boys decided that their services would not be required, so several hundred children from the schools and cradles of our town performed the self-same important duties of policing as was noticed at the Lethbridge rink on the occasion of the first visit of the Blairmore "Tyrants".

The Okotoks boys are good sports and clean hockey players and were well treated by the local hockey club and team and the general public of Blairmore and The Pass on the occasion of their first visit here, and it is hoped that they will come back.

Blairmore To Have A.P.P. Barracks and Courtroom

We understand that the provincial government had made an appropriation of a sum of money for the purpose of erection of a barracks and courtroom in Blairmore for the local attachment of the Alberta Provincial police.

Inspector Risk was in town the early part of the week looking over several proposed sites for the new building, but the site has not yet been decided upon.

The necessity for a barracks and courtroom has been brought to the notice of the government on many occasions, and it is gratifying to know that our wishes to a small extent are to be granted.

Seven-Year-Old Boy Meets Fatal Accident

A sad accident occurred here on Saturday evening last, resulting in the death of Charlie, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Ross.

The little boy was in the habit of jumping on passing vehicles and on this occasion had been warned to keep away, but was on the rear of a truck operated by Tony Rota, an employee of E. Piccarillo, when the truck in backing jolted the boy off, the rear wheel passing over his body. He was picked up and conveyed to his home, where he died about an hour later.

Little Charlie was the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Rossi, and had just entered school, being seven years of age. The little boy arrived from Italy with his mother but a short time ago.

Coroner Pinkney was summoned and on hearing particulars of the accident, decided that an inquest was not necessary.

Interment took place at the Catholic cemetery on Monday afternoon, the remains being followed by a large concourse of citizens, including the boy's schoolmates.

Former Bellevue Footballer Hurt

One of the Bellevue boys who went overseas with the 192nd and went through the war, but who decided to stay in the Old Country when he got his discharge, is Robert Jordan. Before his enlistment he was one of the bright football players of Bellevue. While in England he has been playing ball and has met with a mishap and the accompanying item from an Old Country paper will explain himself.

USLUCKY FOOTBALLER

Whilst playing at Klondyke, Oramington, in the Tynemouth Infirmary Cup tie, on Monday January 3, Robert Jordan, of the Seaton Delaval team, sustained a severe laceration of the knee, caused through falling upon some broken glass, which subsequently developed into tetanus.

"He is now on the fair road to recovery. Towards recompensing him for loss of work a sum of £20 has been subscribed."

"A brilliant player, he had the distinction of holding the club's highest goal average up till the time of his accident."—Ex.

Taxation in Canada

There is an old saying to the effect that every person can be sure of at least two things—death and taxes. There is no escape from either. The addition of proper methods of taxation, perseverance in habits of personal hygiene, living in the open, taking healthful exercise, coupled with all the aid of medical science, may prolong one's life, but in the end death claims all. So, too, no matter how an individual may seek to evade the payment of taxes, and no matter to what corner of the world he may flee, at some time and in some way he pays a tax.

Methods of taxation, and the manner in which they are not only imposed but collected—and finally spent—are, therefore, of real importance to all people, and are deserving of thoughtful study and investigation by all, and especially by public-spirited men and women who take an interest in the welfare of their country and desire to see its institutions based firmly in justice and reason.

Here in Canada we had taxation before the Great War, and the usual amount of grumbling because of the necessity of paying for the upkeep of government was heard. But, in comparison with the burdens borne by the people of the older countries of Europe, Canadians did not know the meaning of the word "taxation." Canada was, as nearly as it is possible for any country to be, tax free. But the Great War changed all this, and today Canada has a huge national debt, in addition to Provincial, Municipal and School debts, all of which can only be borne by the people paying taxes.

Through taxation, too, must come the revenues required to carry on the business of government and administration, and the maintenance of public services in all their many branches.

During the war, Canadians were wont to exclaim that they were ready to give their last man and last dollar to win the war. And while the struggle lasted they stinted neither. The war was won. It has yet to be paid for, and for decades to come the Canadian people will have to pay. Canadians recognize that fact, and they are not complaining. They told their Governments during the war period to go ahead, and they have no intention of backing out of all the many branches.

But the people of Canada have a right to demand, as they are demanding, with increasing vigor, that the methods by which the necessary revenues of the country are raised to discharge those national obligations shall be such as to provide for even-handed justice to all classes in the community. Nobody appears to be satisfied with existing methods, either those whereby the taxation is imposed, or those designed for its collection. The farmer and the consuming masses, including people on small fixed salaries, are particularly out against what they claim is excessive taxation by means of a high customs tariff. The business community, including merchants, wholesalers and manufacturers, fought with unceasing vigor against the Excess Business Profits Tax, claiming that it was not only unjust but absolutely opposed to the best interests of the whole people in that it imposed an impossibly intricate system on the economical and efficient conduct of business, and a cost for collection levied on the consumer.

While some few complain of the Income Tax, it is not generally condemned in principle, but there is almost universal criticism of, and objection to, the administration of the law and the machinery in vogue for the collection of this tax. There is also complaint in those Provinces and Municipalities where, in addition to the Federal Income Tax, there are Provincial or Municipal Income Taxes levied, and in some cases both, making three taxes to be paid all levied on the same income.

As a result, there are feelings of discontent, unrest and resentment throughout the country which it is the duty of statesmen and governments to recognize, and to which they should, in the interests of all, give serious heed. An ostrich-like policy of blinding oneself to existing facts and conditions is not only unprofitable but unsafe. The facts of the situation should be squarely faced, and an effort made to apply a remedy, re-adjust policies and adopt methods more in harmony with the desires of the people, who, let it be repeated, are prepared to pay their full and proper and necessary share of the national taxation, but who insist that the whole question of national finance and taxation be overhauled and made more equitable all round.

The national finances of Canada have never been made the subject of thorough study and expert examination and treatment. They have always been treated, regulated and altered as the expediency of the moment might dictate and in keeping with the particular convictions, prejudices, whims or selfish interests of those who, for the time being, happened to be in control of national affairs. The inevitable result has been the lopping off of some existing tax, or the adding on of a new one, until the national financial structure has become a monstrosity, most fearfully and wonderfully made, incomplete, unsatisfactory and lacking all the elements of permanence and stability.

On the one hand, a policy is adopted which while possibly beneficial in one way is positively harmful in other ways. Policies sound in principle are so hampered by absurd machinery for their administration that they fail in effectiveness, and almost as much harm as good follows their enforcement.

No one person can devise a policy of national finance for a country like Canada, but there are some reforms necessary which appear quite plain and simple. At all events, it is proposed to discuss some aspects of the present taxation problem in Canada, and even to offer a few suggestions, in succeeding articles.

GOOD HEALTH CAN BE YOURS

If Your Blood Supply Is Kept Rich and Red.

It is a waste of time and money to fight merely the signs of disease; in the long run you are probably worse than when you started. What is far more important is that you should intelligently examine the various symptoms and trace the cause. When you remove the cause, health will be yours. For example, anemic people often endure months of suffering while treating its symptoms, such as indigestion, shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart and exhaustion after any small effort.

The apparent stomach and heart troubles are generally nothing more than the result of an insufficient supply of pure blood. This anemic state may have followed some previous illness, or an attack of influenza, or it may have arisen from overwork, worry or too little fresh air. To obtain good health the simple and proper course is to build up the blood, but to do this you must select a reliable remedy with a reputation such as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills enrich the blood which carries nourishment to all the organs of the body and enables them to do their work naturally and efficiently. Thousands of men and women have proved this for themselves. One of these is Mrs. T. Flynn, R. R. 1, Erinville, Ont., who says: "Last spring I got into a badly run down condition. I had no energy, work left me exhausted, and the least exertion would make my heart palpitate violently. I had read of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and decided to give them a trial and got a half dozen boxes. I had not been taking the pills long when I felt a decided improvement in my condition and by the time I had used the six boxes I could do my housework with ease. I can strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to all weak people."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail post paid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from Dr. T. C. Williams, Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Youthfulness of the World

Our Period Is That of Childhood In Many Vital Respects.

The youthfulness of the modern world as we accept it, is remarkable, according to Henry Ford in an interview with the New York Tribune. Thirty-five years ago there were but three or four motor cars in the world, and only for fifteen years have we had the wireless, airships and farm tractors.

Plainly, our period is that of childhood in many vital respects. What has happened through the development of the instruments named above in less than half a century induces great optimism for the speedy conquest of our present difficulties. Montreal Star.

This Organdie Suggests Spring Styles

By Gertrude Berestford.

Among the frocks that are designed for wear at the fashionable resorts are many whose lines anticipate the mode for spring. This interesting dress is fashioned from a bi-que-colored organdie. Narrow bands of the organdie pipe the quaintly cut sleeves, outline the armholes and bodice. The panels on the skirt and bodice are also made of flat bands of organdie. These insets are designed so that they look like grill work. The sash is plicated and is caught beneath the hem in the panel manner that is so much in vogue. The hat of bright green straw is trimmed with leaves of organdie.

To safeguard the child from damage that worms cause, use Miller's Worm Powders, the medicine par excellence for children. These powders will clear the system entirely of worms, will regulate and stimulate the organs injuriously affected by the worms, and will encourage healthy operation of the digestive processes. As a vermifuge it can be relied on for its effectiveness.

Soldiers' Pensions.

A statement showing the scale of pensions awarded to the rank and file, totally disabled, in nine of the countries which participated in the Great War, shows that with the exception of one instance, in which the United States pension is higher, Canada awards her totally disabled soldiers higher than the other belligerent countries. To a totally disabled pensioner, the Dominion gives a pension of $900. If he has a wife, he gets $1,200; if a wife and one child, $1,380; a wife and two children, $1,524; and an advance of $120 a year for each subsequent child.

Rebellion Days, 1884-85

By O. G. E. MABES (Little Clerk).

(Copyrighted)

Next morning I was away bright and early and passed many deserted dwellings, especially as I reached the Lower Flat, which even at that date was a well settled farming district. My thoughts were, if even the threat of war makes this desolation, what must it be like in a country where actual armies had passed and re-passed. I stopped for dinner at a fine looking farm house and the ownerless hens again supplied me with fresh eggs. Both mine and my little pony's appearance was tough, muddy and travel stained after our long swim the night before. I was dressed in Hudson's Bay style, wearing a duffle cap with hood, which I had up, the weather having turned cold. I had a Winchester rifle across my saddle and a large revolver in my holster, which with long stout leggings, made me look very much like I would imagine the South African Boers appeared.

On reaching the top of Miller's Hill I struck the first pickets, who were two fine looking mounted policemen with their accoutrements polished and their fine horses groomed to a finish. The contrast was so great between them and myself that it annoyed me, and when they rode up and asked my business and destination I was not to reply. My pony evidently felt like myself, and as one of them approached rather closely, he let him have both bells with a squeal, much to my suppressed amusement. On we rode down the hill, my escorts on each side, but keeping a cautious distance. On reaching Goodfellow's (the B. R. service) the police had a brick building there for an outpost, and one of the riders caught my bridle rein and told me in military tones that I must wait inspection by the officer in command. Our came the officer, when I threw back my head and glared at him. "Why," he said, "is Mr. Beatty?" Nothing would do but I must come in, tell him the news and have a refresher, which by the way was most acceptable, for I was stiff and sore with the long ride and the posture. The guards took it rather slyly at the result of their capture. I told the officer all I could think of in reference to the state of the north country, also that I was carrying despatches to the Hon. Lawrence Clarke from Ft. La Corne. "How did you cross the river?" was his question. "I swam it," was my reply, and that meant another refresher.

Up to the Mission I rode, found Mr. Clarke's residence, and met himself naming with much regret that he looked a broken man (he was present at the Duck Lake fight and lost some close friends). I handed over my papers and he thanked both Goodfellow and myself with tears in his eyes at our loyalty to the old company and the saving of so much valuable property.

Here an interlude may be in order to show the great contrast between those days and our own, as at present when you ask a man to do anything, the question is, "How much is there in it?" Later on at the close of the rebellion I sent in my account, and time served in the company's interests at Ft. La Corne. The amount was, I think, five or six days at $2.00 per day, and Goodfellow's was only a trifle larger, for he put in a little more time. Some of my friends remarked, "What a fool you were to, you and George might have both made your pile, and the government would have compensated the company just the same." But that was not the way business was done in the old H. B. days.

It was freely rumored that some prominent citizens obtained their start by loot secured in the upturn. After an interesting conversation with Mr. Clarke, he said, "I have a favor to ask. Will you be off of the guards round the old establishment tonight?" and to this I consented. It appeared that Middleton was hourly expected to attack Batoche and if he had been repulsed, Prince Albert would have been attacked.

There was a jolly crowd on guard that night. A long table was set in a store which was loaded with solid and liquid refreshments, and though I felt tough enough, the night passed pleasantly and quietly. I had symptoms of a sore throat coming on, no doubt due to my ducking, so started back next morning for La Corne, going by way of the Indian Reserve where there were one or two men living, and I swam the pony but was crossed over with a canoe. On reaching Goodfellow's I was seized with a violent attack of quinsy which reached a dangerous stage for some days. While I was convalescing, news of Middleton's victory and Riel's capture reached us, and there was much rejoicing. So we rode back home to Stony Creek in the same order as our arrival. I found on reaching our lone house that the Indians had been in, evidently friendly, for though there were moccasins tracks everywhere, nothing was touched, not even our despatches.

A little explanation as to the prime causes of this outbreak amongst the French half-breeds and Indians may be of interest to the more recent settlers in the northwest. At first it is understood that with the exception of a few government posts, the whole country in 1884 from Fort Garry to the Rockies was seething with agitation. Petition after petition had been sent to Ottawa for redress of grievances and these were as regularly filed away and little or no notice taken of them. The Canadian Pacific Railway was an iron monopoly, very much worse than the Hudson's Bay Company had ever been. They held the whole country in their grasp. No other roads could enter the country and exorbitant freight rates absorbed the small earnings of the scattered settlers. Talk of annexation with the United States was rife, and no doubt often encouraged by local American settlers. Land laws were rotten, and after you had put in three years' full time in proving a homestead it was often more than that time before you could secure a patent. The half-breeds living along the Saskatchewan since the early seventies had petitioned Ottawa again and again asking for the old Red River system of river frontage for their farms, but this was refused, and in the meantime white men were coming in and squatting on what they considered their lands. Very much the same causes existed which helped to start the first rebellion of '69-70, the French, with their excitable natures, going much further than the more stolid British. The latter were willing to sit tight for their rights, but when it came to actual rebellion they would not be a party to it.

For Better and Cleaner Seeds

Mr. Melville P. Tullis, Commissioner of the Field Crops Branch of the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture.

H. B. Road Strongly Advocated

Western Boards of Trade Anxious to Have Hudson Bay Railway Completed.

The Pac. Man.—The matter of the completion of the Hudson Bay Railway was brought up at a conference of representatives of Northern Boards of Trade of Manitoba and Saskatchewan held here, when representatives attended from Saskatoon, Prince Albert, Regina, Melfort, Tisdale, Nomon and Winnipeg.

Prof. R. C. Wallace, commissioner for Northern Manitoba, moved that the government be urged to take steps during the present session to arrange for the immediate completion of the Hudson Bay Railway. Dr. Wallace stressed the importance of the Hudson Bay Railway to the people of Manitoba and Saskatchewan. He felt that the delegation which had waited on the government during the previous session had an effect and he thought could be followed by another delegation. He considered that not only the Boards of Trade but other western organizations should combine in this matter. H. G. Dawson, of the Melfort Board of Trade, seconded the motion. Mayor B. M. Sells, of The Pas, said that in putting forward the Hudson Bay Railway completion to the Federal Government, the question of the natural resources of the country should be stressed in addition to advocacy of the line from the point of view of a wheat outlet. All possible data on this subject should be gathered.

The motion was carried. Prof. Wallace moved that in the opinion of the conference the previous resolution should be presented to the government by a delegation representing all Western Boards of Trade and other western organizations. The motion was carried by G. M. Bell, Regina, and seconded. Mr. Bell moved that a committee comprising a representative of the Pas Board of Trade; H. G. Dawson, Melfort; and J. S. Farley, Prince Albert, should attend the meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade of Saskatchewan to be held at Saskatoon on March 8, and discuss this matter. The meeting was presided over by G. B. Bancroft, president of The Pas Board of Trade.

Anglo-Japanese Alliance

Britain Not Bound to Aid Japan in a War With America.

London.—Replying in the House of Commons to a question by Frederick Hall as to whether the terms of the Anglo-Japanese alliance precluded the possibility of Great Britain being compelled to furnish assistance to Japan in the case of a conflict between that country and the United States, Cecil Harmsworth, under secretary for foreign affairs, said that British relations with Japan had no such implication. "That Great Britain would not be involved in such a struggle."

Sir Frederick further asked whether assurances of this state of affairs had been given to the United States in connection with its naval construction programme, to which the under secretary replied that no official communication had been made as there was no reason to believe that the responsible parties were in any doubt regarding the truth of the matter.

Millions Spent For Housing.

Ottawa.—A total of almost eleven and three-quarter millions was advanced by the Federal Government to provincial housing schemes during the fiscal year ending March 31, 1920. Of this amount, Ontario received $3,500,000; Manitoba, $1,500,000; British Columbia, $1,500,000; New Brunswick, $600,000; and Quebec, $600,000.

Death Claims Champ Clark

Passes Away Within Two Days of His Retirement From House.

Washington.—Champ Clark died here in his seventy-first year and within two days of his retirement from the House of Representatives, after a service of 26 years. Death was due to an attack of pleurisy and a complication of diseases incident to his advanced age.

The late Champ Clark was best known in Canada through his famous speech advocating annexation of Canada by the United States during the discussion of reciprocity proposals in 1911. He declared that nine-tenths of the people of the United States wanted the annexation of Canada. This declaration that the reciprocity treaty for the former Canadian colonies, signed by the United States during the campaign, sponsored by the Laurier government in the Dominion election of 1911.

U. S. Has Standing Invitation

League of Nations Executive Explains Situation Re Mandates.

Paris.—In its reply to the United States note on the question of mandates, the League of Nations Executive Council, in the text of which was made public, the Executive Council of the League of Nations says: "The Council not only welcomes but feels justified in claiming the sympathy and support of the government which devised the scheme for the council is required to administer."

Regarding the fundamental contention of the United States that the approval of the United States is essential to the validity of any decisions respecting mandates, the note says the rights which the United States acquired as one of the leading actors in the war and in the peace negotiations are not likely to be challenged in any quarter. It points out, however, how the situation is complicated by the fact that the United States has not ratified the treaty and has not taken a seat in the Council of the League.

The note invites the United States to participate in the discussions of the coming meeting of the council in April, when final decisions are to be made regarding the class "A" and class "B" mandates. The council reminds the Secretary of State Colby that the allocation of the class "C" mandates covering the German islands in the Pacific allocated to Japan, was made by the Supreme Council of the Allies and that the League of Nations is not concerned with the allocation but is only occupied with the direction of the territories involved.

The council adds that it has forwarded the United States note to the British, French, Italian and Japanese Governments.

Russian Revolution

Unrest Amongst Workers in Russia Is Threatening the Soviet.

London.—Reports received in official British circles confirm dispatches telling of an anti-Soviet rising in Russia. They state that the situation in Russia is serious. The latest official news received, however, did not indicate that the Soviet Government had lost control.

"It is reliably reported," the dispatch says, "that very many have been killed or wounded on both sides in street fighting and that there has been considerable property damage. The naval garrison at Kronstadt has joined the rebels."

"Reports of the revolution in Moscow are meager, doubtless owing to censorship. One message indicates that large numbers of former officers of the Russian army are leading the insurgents there."

"In Petrograd the military cadets, who have been among the most reliable supporters of Soviet rule, suffered heavy casualties. Combined forces of laborers and marines, of whom 100 were former service men, attacked the cadets, drove them through the streets to the schools and quickly overwhelmed them. The surviving cadets only obtained shelter when Soviet reinforcements were rushed up."

Liquor Dispensary and Drunkenness.—Port Arthur, Ont.—Port Arthur cases of drunkenness handled by the Port Arthur police jumped in February to a total of 68 from the previous monthly average of 40. Chief Taylor notes that this is coincident with the opening of a liquor dispensary in Port William.

To Oppose Bolsheviks.—Budapest.—A defensive alliance against the Bolsheviks has been concluded by Poland, Rumania and Hungary, according to information from reliable sources.

German People Fail To Realize Extent Of Damage Wrought

The Yellow Peril

Canadians Must Help in Defense Against Oriental Problem.

Ottawa.—"One more war like the last or one fight between the races and this would settle civilization and settle it for good," declared Major Andrews, M.P., speaking in the House of Commons.

Major Andrews was dealing with the Yellow Peril question, quoting statistics to the effect that the black races outnumbered the whites to the extent of two to one. Canada, he urged, could not afford to stand alone as a nation and must unite with other white countries to resist the European race did not disintegrate.

The Naval Question

Admiral Adair Claims Dominions Should Contribute More to the Navy.

London.—Urging that the Imperial Government make an immediate statement of its naval intentions, Admiral Adair, speaking in the House of Commons, declared that with the exception of Australia and New Zealand no dominion was making an adequate contribution to the naval defence of the Empire. The dominions, he said, should contribute two-fifths of the costs of the Empire's navy, but India contributed mighty little, Canada's navy was but a lamentable failure and South Africa's contribution was ridiculous in view of her trade. The under-secretary in the admiralty said no statement on the naval plans of the government could be made until the estimates were presented.

Bad Year for Savings

Savings Deposits in the Government Bank Reported to be Decreasing.

Ottawa.—Total deposits amounting to $42,334,812.25 were at the credit of depositors in the Post Office and Government savings banks on March 31, 1920, for the year ending that date, according to the report on these banks by deputy minister of finance. This was a decrease of $10,772,105.62 from the total deposits on March 31, 1919. Withdrawals during the year exceeded deposits by $12,096,550.79, while $1,764,451.12 was added for accrued interest.

Robbed Good and Plenty.

Montreal.—To be robbed and to such an extent that he has been forced to go out of business, is the unfortunate experience of Philip Fitch, 1028 Notre Dame street.

Mr. Fitch, until Saturday last, ran a general store. On Sunday night, for the fourth time, burglars entered and cleaned it out so completely that Mr. Fitch was compelled to close on Monday, having no goods to sell.

U. S. To Bury Unidentified Soldier.

Washington.—The House last night adopted a resolution directing the war department to bring back from France the body of an unidentified soldier and bury it with suitable ceremonies in Arlington cemetery.

Quebec Member Criticises the Government

Ernest La Pointe, of Quebec East, Is Quite Strong In His Denunciation.

Ottawa.—"Those who pretend to rule this country," dramatically exclaimed Ernest La Pointe in the House of Commons, "has no right to represent the British people at the coming Imperial conference, and we shall not consider ourselves bound either legally or morally by any of the decisions arrived at there."

Mr. La Pointe is the leader of the French-speaking Liberals from Quebec and now represents the division of Quebec East, which Sir Wilfrid Laurier represented so long. He was speaking at the time of the conference of overseas premiers called in London for next June, and his decision followed an arraignment of the government's right to remain in office. The Opposition, he said, would not be represented at the conference.

Cheered by Liberals again and again, Mr. La Pointe quoted a former speech of a British constitutional authority to support the Opposition demand for a dissolution of parliament. The authority of a government to retain office was the nation, and when had the present administration received the approval of the nation?

"The German people are under the impression that the demands of the allies represent intolerable oppression, designed to destroy their country and their people."

"Let me say we regard Germany as essential to civilization, a free prosperity and contented. We simply ask Germany to discharge the obligations she entered into and repair the injuries inflicted by the war which her government is responsible for provoking."

"We are not asking for the costs of the war. The charges on the allies are so enormous it would be impossible to ask a single country to bear them. We simply have insisted that Germany pay reparations with respect to the charges cast upon the respective countries by material damage and injuries inflicted upon lives and limbs of their inhabitants."

Lloyd-George gave figures of the budgets of the allied countries and asked: "What is there comparable in the German budget to this?"

He said he believed that when the German people realized the extent of the devastation wrought their attitude would change. An incredible amount of damage had been done deliberately with the view of destroying the essential means of production of France and Belgium, Lloyd George declared, adding: "Therefore, any reparation is made by Germany it means the victors will pay the price of defeat and the vanquished reap the fruits of victory."

"Once alone, Great Britain alone, in this respect, each bears an annual burden which is almost three times the amount of the whole payment now offered by Germany to meet our claims of reparation," Lloyd George declared.

"The war criminals have not been tried, the Premier asserted, and military organizations, some of them open and some of them clandestine, have been allowed to spring up throughout the country, equipped with arms which ought to have been surrendered."

Manitoba Liquor Question

No More Referendums in Sight for Manitoba This Session.

Winnipeg.—Premier T. C. Norris announced in the legislature that the government had no intention of bringing down this session any measure providing for another referendum on the temperance question. No amendment of the act was contemplated, he added. The announcement was made in reply to a question by J. T. Haig, leader of the Conservative group.

U. S. Honors Unknown Dead.

Washington.—The House has adopted a resolution authorizing that the congressional medal of honor be conferred upon an unidentified British and an unidentified French soldier buried respectively in Westminster Abbey and at the foot of the Arch of Triumph in Paris.

More German Camouflage

Hamburg-South American Boats Now Sail Under Flag of Argentina.

London.—Sir Frederick Hall, in the House of Commons, said that under Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs if he was aware that five German steamers trading with Argentina and belonging to the Hamburg-South American Company, had been transferred to a new Argentine Company formed for the purpose of avoiding the surrender of vessels to the Allied reparations commission.

Sir Frederick demanded to know whether the prestige of South America would not suffer if the Germans were allowed thus to evade the treaty stipulations and asked what steps the Allies proposed to take to set matters right.

Arthur Stanley Wilson, replying, said the situation was being closely watched. The steamers, he declared, were under the Argentine flag, and that Sir Frederick and Hall must realize that the question was a somewhat delicate one since Argentina was not a signatory of the peace treaty.

The resolution, which was proposed by Hon. G. H. Macdonald, minister of agriculture, was seconded by W. Robson, Glenwood, leader of the Independent Farmers, who stated he knew for a fact that hundreds of farmers would be compelled to go out of the cattle-raising business if the embargo were not removed.

Once In Western Canada

THE people of a great city and its surrounding territory were unable to get their newspapers for a period extending over ten days.

THE business of that city was disorganized and almost came to a standstill. The wildest and most imprudent rumors were circulated going to the fact that the community's source of reliable news was cut off. The newspapers had been forced to cease publication owing to shortage of white newsprint.

THIS condition existed about one year ago and emphasized beyond question the vital importance of the newspaper as a factor in modern life. Your cannot live according to modern standards without a knowledge of what is happening in the world. Your newspaper brings that knowledge at a cost to you of less than the white paper the news is printed on.

WITH its discussions of public questions, its great news gathering organizations, its many features and departments, THE CALGARY DAILY HERALD has achieved a high place among Canadian newspapers and is well worthy of a place in every Western Canadian home.

Our Opinion Exactly

The lack of continuity of public office under municipal authority is undoubtedly responsible for much inefficiency, promotes the Huntley-Forster. Men, who are tried to devote their talent and ability to the performance of public service, are not privileged to render maximum efficiency under a system which makes them actually the victims of the caprices of the ever-changing personnel of municipal councils. It would tend to the stability of public service, if men engaged under municipal authority, were assured to be continuously in office until termination of their services was deemed necessary to promote efficiency or effect economy.

Grave of Nonpareil Is a Hoodoo to All

Jack Dempsey, peer of pugilists of the present, is superstitious, as are most fighters.

At Mount Calvary cemetery in Portland is the grave of that famous Jack Dempsey of the past—the Nonpareil.

It was suggested to the world's heavyweight champion, who was in Portland last week, that he visit the grave of the other Jack Dempsey, whose stout heart broke when Bob Fitzsimmons wrested from him the crown of Britain.

Dempsey said no, he guessed he wouldn't visit the grave. He sent, instead, a wreath of flowers to be laid on the grave of the Nonpareil.

"Superstitious?" he was asked.

"Maybe I am," said Dempsey. "Read this book."

Aye, read the book.

Look What Happens

John L. Sullivan, "noblest Roman of them all," who met all comers and laid them low, came to Portland and visited the Nonpareil's resting place.

And in the next fight, "Gentleman Jim" Corbett, slim and elegant boxer, danced about the slower "Jawn" and out him to pieces with lightning blows.

Krit John L.

Steady Knechtel, best of middleweights, took a beating at the scene of the Nonpareil. Before he had a chance to fight again a bullet ended his spectacular career.

"Terrible Terry" McEwren was thought unbeatable in the light heavyweight division. He visited the grave, and straightaway lost the championship to Young Corbett.

Jim Jeffries, world's champion boxer and Frank Gotch, premier wrestler, joining the country together, stopped long enough in Portland to pick up easy money. Together they visited the grave.

What happened is history. Jeffries was holed by Jack Johnson. Gotch succumbed to sickness.

WILLARD DID IT TOO

And last came Willard, unanimous battler. He visited the grave—and a little later lay a bruised and pained bulk, taking the count at Toledo, while the referee lifted the gloves in token of victory of the present Jack Dempsey.

And that is why the champion did not visit the grave of the other Jack Dempsey, who was known as the Nonpareil.

Are You Interested?

Are you interested in the weather? Nearly everybody in Western Canada is vitally interested in weather conditions. Each week Foster's weather forecast appears in the Saturday issue of the Calgary Daily Herald. Many people gauge their business and agricultural activities by Foster. His short, breezy comments on crop prospects are generally correct. His weather reports are standard on the North American continent. This is only one of the many valuable services you get with your year's subscription to The Calgary Daily Herald. Order from your nearest news dealer, direct from the publishers, or the following local agents: J. H. Farmer, Blairmore; I. Wilson, Frank; J. J. Loftus, Hillcrest.

Girls of a marriageable age do not like to tell how old they are, but you can find out by following the subjoined instructions, the young lady doing the figuring: Tell her to put down the number of the month in which she was born then to multiply it by 2, then to add 5, then to multiply it by 50, then to add her age, then to subtract 365, then to add 115, then tell her to tell you the amount she has left. The two figures to the right will tell her her age and the remainder the month of her birth. For example, if the amount is 822, she is twenty-two years old and was born in the eighth month (August). Try it.

A woman who seemed to want a lot for her money, rushed into the Blairmore Hardware store on Saturday afternoon and exclaimed: "Give me a mousetrap, Mr. Loto. Quickly, please, because I want to catch the local train."

"Why is that?" asked Mike.

Lethbridge hockey club are said to possess a unique assembly room. The appointments are the finest. At either end of the room is stationed a goal net, while the chairman occupies a position as judge of play between the two nets. Some good playing has been done by the Lethbridge team on the skating rinks, but one is very apt to judge that most of the decisions favoring Lethbridge this season have been arrived at in the committee room. Lethbridge did not win the championship of the League, and one reason advanced for this fact is that they lost public sympathy immediately they started to depart from the rules and endeavored to augment their original lineup with men not yet registered. Blairmore played the game from the start. Their lineup is registered at the commencement of the season can all answer the roll call today and no protests have been entered and sustained against them during the season. They maintained fullest public sympathy and support to the last. Japan refuses to make any move towards disarmament.

The Women's Institute will hold a dance here on Friday, March 11th. The music will be good and the lunch tempting. We expect a good turnout.

It appears to us that unless the Alberta government decided to pass legislation similar to that in B. C., with regard to liquor, that there is a danger of Alberta losing much of her population, taking this together with British Columbia's attractive climate.

Quite a number attended the housewarming given by the Graham Brothers at the Buchanan White ranch the other night. One gentleman not being well posted on the direction, after starting out twice, finally turned up in Lundbrook, much to his disgust.

The farmers, who have been plowing, will be forced to stop for a few days on account of another six inches of snow just fallen. So far, March has been an ideal month for agriculture. Indications point to less of moisture here during this month and it is what the farmers all want.

On Monday last the council of Municipal District 70 held their initial meeting of the year, at which considerable routine business was accomplished. James McLean and James Bennett were re-elected reeve and deputy reeve, respectively, for the current year. Mr. Trist was appointed secretary - treasurer. There will be no extensive programme of road building this year. The change in position of the Middle Fork bridge, which is under way, is again held up through inclement weather and the bridge being dismantled at the old site is causing considerable inconvenience. The new site provides a much better grade.

The Pathephone

THE MOST REMARKABLE MUSICAL INSTRUMENT IN THE WORLD
Reasons Why You Should Own This Perfect Instrument

It has the sweetest tone.
It is by far the most artistic of any musical instrument.
It gives the most natural sound reproduction.
It plays all makes of disc records perfectly.
It uses a genuine, round, highly polished permanent Sapphire Ball when playing Pathé Discs. This sapphire never wears out and does not injure the surface of the record.
It is made with an all-wood sound chamber, amplifying the music in the fullest manner.
It has the most superior record repertoire in the world, comprising selections recorded in every musical genre.
Discs are all double-faced, including all operatic selections.
In playing the Pathephone there are no needles to change, no metal points to dig into, and ruin the surface of the records.
It can be bought at from $70 upwards.

Anglican Church
The Anglican Church will hold service on Sunday evening next, March 13th, in the Masonic Hall, at 7.30. This is a temporary arrangement, found necessary by the insufficient accommodation for evening service in the present mission room.
The service will be conducted by Major the Rev. W. Walker.
If the world would return to the old style fancy dress for men, church attendance might improve considerably.
Mr. Left Leg, of Calgary, was a visitor here the early part of the week.
